

JUDGE HOOK ORDERS

5,000 Cattle Removed From the Fullington Ranch

GRANT PREEMPTORY WRIT

Trustee J. E. Conklin Will Take Possession of Land.

Deputy United States Marshal Fred Trigg yesterday received an order from Judge Hook in the C. P. Fullington bankruptcy to remove 5,000 head of cattle from the big Fullington ranch in Kiowa and Comanche counties. The writ obtained is a preemptory one and the cattle will be removed forthwith and the land given to the possession of J. E. Conklin of this city, who was appointed trustee of the property when proceedings of bankruptcy were instituted. Mr. Conklin will probably go to the ranch in a few days to take charge of the affairs. A similar order was issued some time ago but it was not as binding and consequently was not obeyed. The order will be served on W. G. Fairchild and J. E. Conklin of Hutchinson and F. N. Mills, the owner of the cattle, to be elected from the property of the bankrupt.

As will be remembered, after the failure Mr. Fullington was forced into bankruptcy last March by eastern creditors, principal among whom were the First National bank of Chicago. The liabilities were vast, and after Mr. Conklin's appointment as trustee some of the losses of pasture lands on the ranch refused to give up possession upon the claim that some of the lands belonged to them by reason of tax titles. Messrs. Fairchild and Conklin claimed that certain pasture lands that were leased by them from Fullington could not be taken away during the life of the lease. The claim of Messrs. Fairchild and Conklin was presented and heard by Judge Hook, who decided in favor of the trustee and ordered the live stock removed from the ranch. In the meantime some of the pasture lands claimed by reason of the tax titles were leased to F. N. Mills, a large stockman who came from Wyoming. The ranch was immediately stocked and 5,000 head of cattle are now grazing on the land.

A few days ago upon application the court issued a preemptory order of removal and the cattle will be forcibly ejected if the owner refuses to give up immediate possession.

This is one of the largest bankruptcies suits ever filed in the state. The ranch is one of the largest in the state, containing thousands of acres of pasture lands in Kiowa and Comanche counties. It is celebrated all over the country for the excellent grazing lands. Messrs. Fairchild and Conklin are fighting the bankruptcy proceedings and more likely by them that they are entitled to ownership to some of the pasture lands will be heard by the bankruptcy court when it comes up for final hearing.

Last spring E. J. Evans, Cairo, Ill., was run down in health had to give up work. Was also troubled with boils and sores. He writes: "Doctors did me no good but before I had finished one bottle of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I began to improve and am now a well man." J. P. Allen, Dockum & Higginson, Geo. Van Warden.

BEST RECORD EVER MADE

Postal Clerks of this District Make Fine Showing.

Chief Clerk Reed, of the Railway Post Office, has just made up his report of the examination for the month of May. There were 28 examinations of 4,232 postoffices were handled with only 341 errors. The average number correct is 99.57. The average grade is the best ever made in the Wichita office. It is probable that there are but few divisions in the United States that can show a much better record.

It is said on good authority that the clerks under the Wichita office have the best record for efficiency of any division in the Seventh division, and is also considered one of the best forces in the country. Chief Clerk Reed was seen yesterday and said that one reason why the clerks in this district had such a good record is because they have formed a habit of checking each other. By checking it means that whenever an error is made in handling the mail the clerk discovering the error reports it and it is registered in the division superintendent's office against the clerk making the error. On some lines they become very careless about checking, and as a result become careless in handling the mail, with a loss in efficiency.

St. Louis Court of Appeals Affirms Judge Williams' Decision.

Mr. George Getty of Syracuse, Kan., was in the city yesterday on his return from a sitting of the circuit court of appeals in St. Paul. Mr. Getty is a dead shot with the rifle, and is arranging a hunting trip for this fall. The party will consist of George Getty, Ed. Madison, O. H. Bentley and W. M. Wallace, and will go into Colorado near Hahn's Peak and hunt deer and incidentally the silver-tipped bear.

Her husband died intestate and left her with three minor children. She was herself as guardian of her children. The suit is merely a legal form which must be gone through with in order to have the estate partitioned according to law.

Mrs. Grace asks that she be given one-half, and each of the three children one-sixth of the entire property.

KANSAS BANKERS' MEETING

C. Q. Chandler of the City Elected President.

The Kansas bankers have been holding their annual convention at Abilene two days of the past week. The convention adjourned Thursday evening. Governor Stanley addressed them on the subject of the general outlook for business in the current year. A number of interesting papers on current topics of interest were read. C. Q. Chandler, the new head of the Kansas National bank of this city, who was elected president of the association for the coming year, read a paper on depositing and handling of state monies which drew out quite a discussion. He pointed out the weakness of the Kansas laws, relating to state funds, which gives all the deposits to the banks without interest, and recommended the adoption of the Missouri system, which provides for depositing state funds in the banks offering the highest interest, government, state or county bonds being deposited as security. Mr. Chandler held that under this system the state would have absolute protection and at the same time would realize from $5,000 to $10,000 a year in interest.

MUST GO TO POSTOFFICE

Newsboys Can't Get Their Papers at the Stations.

The postal authorities are receiving a number of complaints from the newsboys who handle outside papers, because they are no longer allowed to get their papers at the station as soon as the trains pull in. Most of the papers were sent as outside mail and were not placed in any of the sacks. The boys have been in the habit of going to the train and getting their papers without waiting for them to pass through the postoffice, but this has been stopped for the reason that there is no postal clerk on the train who can deliver the mail.

W. SHOWALTER WANTS PAY

For Serving His Motherless Granddaughter--Appealed.

Yesterday a rather peculiar case was filed in the appellate court here from Sumner county. William Showalter and Melvina Showalter, his wife, are the plaintiffs in error against John H. Richter. The suit is for $657.50 and is to recover money paid out by them in caring for the little daughter of Mr. Richter. The Showalters were plaintiffs in the lower court and in their petition to the appellate court said that they had taken care of the girl from the 20th of September, 1898, to June 20, 1899. They claim that this service is worth $100 per year, which would amount to about $45, which with interest and the costs of the first action equals the total amount of the suit.

In his answer to the petition Mr. Richter states that Mr. and Mrs. Showalter are the grandparents of the child, its mother having been their daughter. He alleges that the mother died when the child was very young and that before she was buried the old people had asked him for the little girl. He says that he granted their request and that they took the girl and always claimed her as their own. As another reason why the petition should not be granted, he states that he amply repaid them for the keeping of the girl by giving them many gifts. At different times he had given them a cook stove and a cow and had often bought the groceries used by the family. In addition to all this he had bought for them a farm in Texas, where he was living and moved them there. He allowed them all the income from the farm and even paid the taxes himself. While they were living there in 1894 the child died, and for some time after this they still continued to live on the farm, but afterwards abandoned it of their own free will and without even his knowledge. They came back to Sumner county, while he remained a non-resident of the state of Kansas. He also alleged that they did not bring action until after the expiration of two years, and that their suit was of no force because of the statute of limitation in force in the state of Texas, which allows the statute of the filing of suits for the recovery of money.

The case was tried in the district court of Sumner county last fall, and Richter was given the verdict. It was appealed on the grounds that the court erred in admitting the count in the answer of the defendant pertaining to the statute of limitation. The case will be called for trial during the September term of the appellate court.

FILE SUITS TO VACATE

Petitioners Ask That Unimproved Property Be Taken Out of City.

Yesterday L. W. Clapp and James Munn both filed suits in the district court to have city property of which they are the owners vacated. Mr. Munn is the owner of block 22 and 23, in J. O. Davidson's Second addition to the city of Wichita. He states that the property is entirely without improvements and that it would damage the interests of no one to have the property vacated. He asks that the streets and alleys adjoining the property be vacated and that the land be listed on the tax rolls the same as if it had never been platted.

Mr. Clapp's suit is a similar one. He is the owner of five blocks in the neighborhood of High street, which is in the twenty-third street north of Douglas. He asks to have the streets and alleys vacated and set outside of the corporate limits.

RIPANS

DYSPEPSIA

If allowed to go unchecked will wear people down and wholly unfit them for social or business duties. Ripans Tablets will cure it. The following facts from a man living at Cramer Hill, N. J., bear out this statement: "I have been an awful sufferer from dyspepsia and biliousness," he says, "and had the former in most all its forms. My worst feeling was in the morning. I could not drink tea or coffee, but what they would sour on my stomach and make me vomit, and I became so weak that I could hardly stand. My friends noticed my condition and thought I had consumption. About four months ago a gentleman, seeing what a pitiable condition I was in, asked me to try Ripans Tablets, and I did. The next morning my wife told me to drink my coffee and then take a Tabule; and behold! I had no sour stomach, and it was the first time in two weeks that I did not vomit. That same day I took two more, and am now taking them about once a day. I am today a well man and have gained about twenty pounds since using them. They are worth their weight in gold.".....
